“He is a last minute replacement and I don’t know much more than his record," said Douglas. "I know in his last few fights he has been knocked out so I plan to make this quick. I am in shape, I am ready and feel strong"

Douglas will be fighting seven miles from his hometown and is eager to put on a good performance.

"I have lots of people from home that will be there so I want to be very impressive."

Odom of Bowie, Maryland has a record of 8-0 with all wins coming by knockout. He is coming off a 3rd round stoppage over Demetrius Walker on January 17th in Memphis.

"I looked at Gill's record and I know he has a lot of fights and some losses. I will not underestimate him. He is still a fighter."

"I just want to thank my promoter Vito Mielnicki for working with me and I want to thank my team for their continued support.", finished Odom.

Like Yelton, Gill is extremely battle tested and despite his record, he has some big wins on his ledger such as Bobby Rooney (3-0), Terrance Johnson (4-0), former U.S. Olympian Dante Craig (17-5-1), Richard Stewart (12-2-1) and current world-ranked Light Heavyweight Anatoliy Dudchenko (3-0).
