

Scott Burrell to take on Joseph Perez this Saturday at the Mohegan Sun

Uncasville, CT (July 20, 2016) -This Saturday night at the Mohegan Sun in Uncasville, Connecticut, Scott Burrell will battle Joseph Perez in a junior welterweight bout scheduled for six rounds.

The card is promoted by Joe DeGuardia's Star Boxing

Burrell of Brooklyn, New York will head into the ring with a record of 11-2 with eight knockouts.

Burrell has won four straight bouts which include three early wins.

In Perez, Burrell is fighting an opponent who has won two in a row and unbeaten in his last four.

This will be a good test for Burrell as Perez has a win over previously undefeated Augustine Mauraes.

"Coming off a win back in June, Scott is back in the ring Saturday to face off against Perez,"said Burrell's manager TJ Marsé

Along with trainer Don Saxby he will have his twin brother Dean in his corner.

According to manager TJ Marsé "both Dean and Scott will be back in the ring the end of August and will be fighting each month through December to finish of 2016 with a bang! We are making some strategic moves with brands/sponsors that will come to life early in 2017 all in order to help the Burrell Brothers brand"

The Burrell Twins are sponsored by Reebok.