PHILADELPHIA – January 26, 2017 – Victory Boxing Promotions returns to 2300 Arena in Philadelphia this Saturday with an eight-bout card stacked with elite, undefeated prospects. In the main event, Jaron “Boots” Ennis (8-0, 7K0) faces Puerto Rico’s Elvin Perez (28-16-4, 19K0) in a six-round bout at welterweight.

It’s a step up in competition for Ennis, who beat Marcus Bedford via sixth round technical knockout in December. “We are moving Boots very fast,” Victory Boxing Promotions Founder and Promoter said of the young talent, who began his pro career last April with four national amateur championships and two of Philadelphia’s famed Briscoe Awards under his belt. “Boots is the real deal, and we’re going to see how he fares against a much more experienced opponent on Saturday.”

Local prospect Darren Goodall (3-0, 2K0) kicks off the Philadelphia action in a four-round, super middleweight bout versus Gary Hudson Jr. (debut). Six-foot Philly featherweight Don Smith (3-0, 2K0) is also in action versus Indiana’s Chris Nelson.

"If I would have won that, I would be fighting for a world title. I wanted to win that fight in general, but I look forward to the next fight. Maybe I wasn't supposed to get the title shot now. I just have to work and that shot will come. I just have to be patient."

Lopez is ready to show his skills in front of the knowledgeable Philadelphia fight crowd.

"I always know that Philly is a great fight town. I actually want to see the park here "The Fresh Prince" was bullied at," Lopez said laughingly.
